M'ADOO, IN STATEMENT, URGES NETS FOR SHARKS

A warning to bathers at Atlantic coast seaside resorts was issued from the office of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo yesterday, laying down rules to ward off the danger of sharks.

By direction of the Secretary of the Treasury the United States Coast Guard has been investigating conditions along the Jersey Coast. It was decided, according to Secretary McAdoo's statement, that the danger could be met by enclosing the beaches with steel wire nets and by endeavoring to induce people not to venture into the surf or deep water until nets could be installed.

"I HAVE NEVER FELT BETTER IN MY LIFE," DECLARES J. D. BOYD

Lives at 1809 Hamlin Street N. E.—Claims He Never Has a Pain Since Taking Drego.

"I have gained 14 pounds on Drego and I now feel new life and energy tingling through every nerve and muscle of my body," said J. D. Boyd, a few days ago.

"I had a continual hurting in my stomach for several months, and after eating I would swell up and feel all bloated. I could not eat without suffering great pain afterward and I had a burning in the pit of my stomach all the time. This trouble made me very nervous and I had spells of pains in my stomach at night so I could not sleep and would have to get up and walk the floor on account of the distress. I lost a great deal of weight and so much strength and energy that I would just have to force myself to duty. My condition seemed to be getting worse every day, and I began to think I'd have to give up and stop off from my work, for nothing did me any good till I got Drego.

"I've taken five bottles of Drego in all, and I'm glad to tell you that I never felt better in my life than I do right now. I simply feel like a new man, and wouldn't take anything in the whole world for what it has done for me. It has relieved me of the nervousness and the pains that used to keep me awake at night, and I can now sleep and rest like a child. My appetite is fine now, and I can eat anything I want and plenty of it, and I don't feel like I ever had stomach trouble or indigestion at all. I have gained 14 pounds in weight and besides that I have gained back all the strength and energy I had lost. The best thing in the world is to have good health and feel well, and I'm more than grateful that I'm now enjoying my share, for I've hardly had a pain since taking Drego. I'm ready to tell anybody what Drego has done for me, and what I believe it will do for any one else in the shape I was in."

Drego is sold in all O'Donnell's Drug Stores, Allen's in Alexandria, Bury's in Anacostia.—Adv.

RAKES IN GUARD CLOSING RAPIDLY

Day Nets 24—Troops See Visions of Entraining for Mexico.

Glad were the hearts of the members of the District Militia at Camp Ordway last night when word was brought in that the day had netted twenty-four of the recruits needed to put the Guard on a war footing.

Fifteen of the men were secured at the Pennsylvania avenue station and nine at Camp Ordway. Nineteen were for the Third Infantry.

Not a man of the Guard but expressed belief that the next few days would see every troop with a full complement and en route to the border. The possibility of quitting the deadly routine of near the fort acted as a tonic.

The fifteen recruits at the city station are believed to be the result of the feature attractions put on last night. In addition to a concert by the Third Infantry Band, a series of military exercises gave a snappy exhibition drill, executing foot movements and manual under the command of Corporal R. E. Burke.

Applicants for enlistment at the city station were: Joseph E. Snyder, Fifth street southeast; Benjamin H. Morris, 2222 Sherman avenue northwest; James M. Moten, 1083 Thirtieth street; Arvon Mullins, 2407 Eighth street northwest; Edward Stewart, Cedar Heights, Md.; William C. Thomas, 709 Nineteenth street northeast; Edward Nairn, 1917 Eighth street northwest; Harry Jackson, 56 Perry street; Mahlon J. Diggs, 617 Twenty-third street northwest; Edward J. Murphy, 273 Coleman street; John J. Walsh, 1029 Twenty-second street northwest; Allen Harrison, 1316 Kenyon street northwest; William Papson, 2016 G street northwest; Thomas E. Roberts, 401 First street northwest; and Frank Campbell, 1225 L street northwest.

Of the nine enlistments at Camp Ordway four were for the Third Infantry. The field artillery got one new man and the others went to the colored infantry detachment. Those enlisting were: In the Third Infantry, Thomas J. Ahern, Herbert H. Balkam, Leroy H. Clarke, Morris J. Webster; in the First Separate Battalion, Benjamin H. Burrell, James R. Moten, Aaron Mullins, Edward Stewart; in Battery A, Ernest E. Barnes.

HINTS AT BALTIC BATTLE.
Copenhagen Paper Reports Cannon-ading Toward South.

London, July 20.—The newspaper Dagens Nyheder of Copenhagen hints that the naval battle has been fought in the Baltic between the Swedish islands of Landsort and Gotska-Sando.

The Dagens Nyheder states that during the whole night a violent cannonading was heard, and it is supposed the Russians repulsed the German warships, as the firing was audible in a more southerly direction toward 11 o'clock the next morning.

WEBB BILL URGED.
Trade Council Wants Co-operation of Exporters Legalized.

The National Foreign Trade Council, in a statement submitted to the House Judiciary Committee yesterday, urged the enactment of the Webb bill, legalizing co-operative effort by exporters.

The report, which comprehensively analyzes the present international trade situation of the United States, is signed by seven prominent exporters in different parts of the United States: John D. Ryan, Anaconda Copper Mining Company; J. A. G. Carson, Savannah, Ga.; James A. Farrell, United States Steel Corporation; H. G. Lewis, National Paper and Type Company; W. H. Ruse, Ruse & Burgess Lumber Company; and Theodore B. Wilcox, of the Portland Flouring Mills Company, Portland, Ore.

by understanding, to serve them, it will continue in power as long as it practices that devotion. There is one thing in this world that binds men together and that is usefulness.

"Selfishness separates them. If you are Democrats there is only one way to hold the confidence of the American people and that is by deserving it. And I know that the single object of the Postmaster General has been to make the Post Office Department more serviceable than it has ever been before. I esteem you good Democrats in proportion as you sustain him in that desire."

Vice President Marshall, Senator Bankhead, Representative Moon and others were scheduled to make important addresses at the banquet, but the close of the President's remarks was the signal for an exodus that left other speeches to be included as part of the record.

SPECIAL DELIVERIES.

Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson, Mrs. Burleson and Ralph Bolling occupied a box on the south end of the banquet hall, where they were the cynosure of all eyes. Their appearance was greeted with cheers. They arrived some time after the President.

President Colin M. Selph, of the association, and James W. Kelly, postmaster of Long Island City, acted as the personal escorts of the President upon his arrival at the eighth. When the President arrived, dressed in a Palm Beach suit, the postmasters cheered, cheered and cheered again. Flags were waved and order was not maintained until fully ten minutes had elapsed. It was indeed a great ovation.

The cartoons shown on a screen created much laughter, particularly when T. R. was shown. When the picture of the President was shown, sitting on a fence above a huge watermelon marked "No. 1", the banquet hall went wild, and it took a somewhat strenuous fifteen minutes for Postmaster Selph to restore order.

At the request of President Wilson, George H. O'Connor, of local fame, sang "My Cousin Caruso." All in all George was a great factor in the success of the banquet as he acted as leader and soloist and general all around handy man. George said, "I have one of those 'Nothing to do until tomorrow' jobs." He was ably assisted by Matt Horne, the clever pianist.

Joe Terrell, Fred Krauss and Pete Turner who officiated in the Raleigh hat room made quite a record for themselves. Nearly 1,000 hats were checked and not a mistake was made.

A large corps of waiters, under the supervision of John Evans, maitre de hotel of the Raleigh, competently filled the tasks assigned to them.

Postmaster "Jim" Kelly, of Long Island City decided that the postmasters would have to wait another year before he would give them his specialty of imitating wild birds and animals.

Ruskin McArdie, chairman of the entertainment committee, proved himself a capable man in the art of seeing to it that every one enjoyed the specialty of imitating wild birds and animals.

As a toastmaster President Colin M. Selph is in a class by himself. He is gifted with the "blarney."

Postmaster C. L. Skoug, of Crookston, Minnesota, took the President that he has been obliged to shake hands over 1,000 times with delegates and friends who have mistaken him for the "big boss."

Here is the result of the election yesterday: President, Colin M. Selph, St. Louis, Mo.; secretary, Eugene S. Shannon, Nashville, Tenn.; treasurer, Frank C. Sites, Harrisburg, Pa.; and vice president, William H. Murphy, Albany, N. Y.; Claude C. Weaver, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Thomas J. Costello, Springfield, Mass.; Bolling H. Jones, Atlanta, Ga.; Charles E. Lown, Saginaw, Mich.; W. W. Stockwell, Ansonia, Conn.; Fred Le Roy, Streator, Ill.; T. O. Dunbar, Santa Rosa, Cal.; and Forest L. May, Dayton, Ohio.

POLICE HUNT NEGROES WHO ATTACKED CHILD

Every policeman in Washington is looking for two colored boys who are said to have attempted to assault Minnie Rose, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Rose, 2803 Fourth street northeast, yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, in a woods at the intersection of Fourth and Evert streets northeast near the child's home.

The girl was alone when two colored boys overpowered her and placed a handkerchief over her mouth and dragged her into the underbrush. The girl managed to scream and was heard by a passing pedestrian. The boys became frightened and escaped. The case was not reported to the police until 9 o'clock last night.

POSTMASTERS AGENTS OF FEDERAL RESERVE

Secretary McAdoo announced yesterday that upon his recommendation the Postmaster General had instructed postmasters of the country, in towns and cities where there is no member of the Federal reserve system, to collect checks drawn upon member State banks and to remit the proceeds to the reserve banks.

This action was taken in accordance with a resolution adopted by the reserve board to carry out the system of collecting checks at post established on July 15. The order of the Postmaster General is largely precautionary as in almost all instances nonmember banks have cooperated in the check clearing system.

CATAPULT FOR SHIP.
North Carolina Can Throw Planes from Deck.

It was said at the Navy Department yesterday that the armored cruiser North Carolina had been equipped with a catapult for launching aeroplanes, and now carries some half dozen planes and several aeroplane officers aboard.

The presence of this vessel at Hampton Roads led to inquiry as to whether she would be used to help patrol the three-mile limit when the German submarine liner Deutschland makes her attempt to escape the cordon of British warships. Secretary Daniels said the ship's presence had no connection with the submarine's movements.

DANIELS GUARDS JUTLAND REPORT

Sea Fight Statement by Capt. Sims Too Strong for Secretary.

President Wilson's expressed desire to be scrupulously neutral with regard to the war in Europe is destined to suffer a rude shock, unless somebody side-tracks a report called for and now being guarded by Secretary of the Navy Daniels, which is the statement of Capt. W. S. Sims, commanding the Battleship Nevada, made on the naval battle with Jutland at the special solicitation of the Secretary of the Navy.

Mr. Daniels, together with several Democratic members of the House Naval Affairs Committee, desired to have a frank statement from Capt. Sims with particular reference to the roles played by the battle cruisers in this engagement. They got a frank statement—very frank, in fact. Besides commenting on the apparent work done by the battle cruisers he has commented at some length on the naval lessons of the battle and given a forceful account of the masterful strategy of the British.

Capt. Sims is admittedly a great admirer of the British navy. Secretary Josephus Daniels momentarily forgot this when he asked Capt. Sims for a statement which could be published and given over to the House Naval Affairs Committee. Capt. Sims' statement has reached here, but it has not been made public.

The President has forbidden officers of the army or navy to make any comment which might be construed as unneutral to any of the belligerents.

SOCIETY MAN IS HELD FOR ROBBING HIS HOST

Special to The Washington Herald.
Newton, Mass., July 20.—Charles W. Summa, 25 years old, Harvard graduate and society man, was arrested yesterday on a charge of stealing jewelry valued at $1,100 from a home in this city, at which he had been a guest.

The police say the young man confessed this and other thefts, the appropriation of the jewels having been conducted systematically since last November. His victim was W. E. Litchfield, whose family is prominent in Newton. One of the remarkable features of the case is that young Summa has been attentive to one of Litchfield's daughters. Society had heard a rumor that the engagement of the two young people might be announced within a short time.

Held Up Near Chevy Chase.
Sidney H. Fra, of McKinley street, Chevy Chase, was held up at the point of a pistol by two white men, on the Maryland road about a half mile from the District line, on the Maryland side, at 10:45 last night. The highwaymen were frightened off by the approach of an automobile.

BORDER MILITIA NOT PAID.

Writer Says Troops Are All Healthy but "Broke."

Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood has just received a letter from her grandson, Dr. Forest L. Ormes, who is with the Signal Corps Company, of the District Militia, at Warren, Ariz. It is a cheerful note and says that the men on the border are being treated well in every respect except pay.

"Everybody is waiting for payday here, as we are all broke," said the writer. He also says that it is the belief at Warren that the troops will be on the border until November at least.
